The tradition of evaluating a newly elected president at the end of his first 100 days in office began with FDR in 1933 and has continued to the present. Join us as we discuss the Trump presidency at the 100-day mark. As part of our discussion, we will analyze how other presidents have been graded at the end of their first 100 days. We will review the issues and electoral outcome of the 2016 election. Finally, we will consider where President Trump stands at the close of his first 100 days in office.
